Suburban Boynton woman, 92, in critical condition after being run over by her car

By Sonja Isgler and Alexandra Seltzer

A 92-year-old suburban Boynton Beach woman remains in critical condition this morning at Delray Beach Medical Center after she was knocked over by her car door and then run over by the vehicle Thursday afternoon, authorities report.

Sylvia Gladstone pulled her 2006 Mercury Grand Marquis into a parking spot at 7667 Victory Lane, west of Jog Road, in suburban Delray Beach around 12:30 p.m. Thursday. She got out of her vehicle to make sure she was parked properly but didn't place the vehicle completely in park, according to a report from Palm Beach County Sheriff's officials.

The vehicle rolled backward and Gladstone was knocked over by the driver's side door and fell to the ground. The vehicle continued rolling and rolled over Gladstone. The car came to rest with the left front tire on Gladstone.
